PLAGIARISM POLICY & PROCEDURES

Plagiarism Check As per the guidelines of UGC (Minimum Standards and Procedure for Award of M.PHIL./PH.D Degrees) Regulations, 2016. It is the duty of a scholar to ensure that his/her work is free of Plagiarism before submitting the dissertation/ thesis for evaluation. Plagiarism, which involves presenting someone else's ideas as one's own, is considered intellectual theft that undermines academic integrity and the reputation of the institution and its degrees.

The National College is dedicated to promoting and upholding the ethical standards of writing with integrity. To combat plagiarism, the college has implemented a strict protocol that applies even at the assignments level. Students, scholars, and faculty are educated on the importance of acknowledging and citing sources in their work to avoid any moral or ethical violations of academic integrity. National College provides education to faculty and scholars about the consequences of intentional and unintentional plagiarism, which can hinder their learning and progress.

In National College, It is imperative to provide an undertaking from the Ph.D research scholar and a certificate from the Research Supervisor attesting to the originality of the work which is free of Plagiarism and that the work has not been submitted prior for the award of any other degree/ diploma of the same Institution where the work was carried

The College Library offers support in detecting plagiarism in different academic works, including Ph.D. theses, M.Phil. dissertations, projects, conference/workshop papers, and abstracts. To have their documents checked for plagiarism, students, research scholars, and staff members need to submit them via email to the Library, along with the necessary application and proof of online payment. Including the plagiarism report is a requirement for all theses, journal articles, and dissertations to be recognized as valid research or publications. The Submission of documents for plagiarism check should be emailed to sureshkumart@nct.ac.in
